

A selection of recently published work on adolescent transitions into healthy marriages in adulthood

References Collected in December 2008

Amato, P., Landale, N., Havasevich-Brooks, T., Booth, A., Eggebeen, D., Schoen, R., et al. (2008). Precursors of young women's family formation pathways. Journal of Marriage & Family, 70(5), 1271-1286.

Dixon-Mueller, R. (2008). How young is too young? Comparative perspectives on adolescent sexual, marital, and reproductive transitions. Studies in Family Planning, 39 (4), 247-262.

Gillmore, M., Lee, J., Morrison, D., & Lindhorst, T. (2008). Marriage following adolescent parenthood: Relationship to adult well-being. Journal of Marriage & Family, 70(5), 1136-1144.

Manning, W. D., Giordano, P. C., & Longmore, M. A. (2008). Adolescent dating relationships: Implications for understanding adult intimate unions. Center for Family and Demographic Research. CFDR Working Paper 2008-08.

Meier, A. & Allen, G. (2007). Romantic relationships from adolescence to young adulthood: Evidence from the national longitudinal study of adolescent health. Minnesota Population Center. Working Paper 2007-03.
<http://www.pop.umn.edu/research/mpc-working-papers-series/2007-working-papers-1/2007-03-romantic-relationships-from-adolescence-to-young-adulthood-evidence-from-the-national-longitudinal-study-of-adolescent-health/>